

Atrichornis 023

Across

- 6 Distracted birder superbly (and correctly) identifies ground-dweller (6,8)
- 9 Group of waterbirds could bring some cygnets to us (6)
- 10 Wader migrations perhaps involving cases of offhand yelps and some yaps (8)
- 11 City dweller flying over dock (4,4)
- 13 A troubling thing to do with feathers (6)
- 15 Neither fog nor damp restrict this bird returning (6)
- 17 Preparing to dump a good point for button-quails (6)
- 19 Minor group of eagles (seriously?) (6)
- 20 Cut indecision, removing sides of dovecote (8)
- 22 Fast reading seabirds? (8)
- 24 Dashed hope, then live American tyrant-flycatcher appeared (6)
- 26 Ribbon thrown wildly and semi-well catches a bird of the under-storey (5,9)

Down

- 1 Indonesian rainforest bird (or a kosher copy we'd arranged) (4,10)
- 2 Bridge across the wings (4)
- 3 Stop rest of flock circling like magic (6)
- 4 Brazilian passerine wastes energy trapping gutless wonder (4,4)
- 5 The old one-two bird? (4)
- 7 Pooled around and circled back (6)
- 8 Loony Labor slip upset a long-legged regal (5,9)
- 12 You'll find shorebirds at this rate (5)
- 14 Not what you'd expect initially from fulmars and kittiwakes, even skuas? (5)
- 16 Birders' clothing – perhaps strange to include a size M option (8)
- 18 It would be a big mistake using the Mafia's count of shorebirds (6)
- 21 They really can't be headless chooks! (6)
- 23 Imitates gulls in a stable arrangement (4)
- 25 Hearing a parrot, I could trap it (4)
