

The Regent

© Alan Stuart September 2018

It landed right in front of me
Two metres up, in a gum tree,
Perching awhile to scan for food.
You could not call this bird subdued;
Its colours so vivid and bold
A perfect mix of black and gold.